Revolution Rampant and Alarming Conditions are Prevalent—Arrests are Such as to Astound the Whole Island—Attempts Made to Assassinate President Palma.

Havana, Aug. 19.—Revolution is rampant in Cuba tonight and the situation is now so serious that the government has thrown off its cloak of evasion and has ordered wholesale arrests. Since 5:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon, secret police in Havana have been "gathering" in prominent members of the element that is opposed to the Palma administration, and the arrests are such as to astound all Cuba. Among those are now held by the secret police are General Garcia Veloz, a prominent war general of Cuba. All are held upon charges of attempting to assassinate, and plotting to assassinate President Palma.

Th; revolution in the western part of the island has, it is announced, assumed the phase of actual attacks upon the president, who is adopting spectacular tactics in trying to restrain the disorderly element.

GARRISONS REINFORCED.
Despite the disposition of the government officials in attempting to discredit the reports of the plots against the Palma administration it is said that the garrisons of the various posts in the western part of the island have been materially reinforced during the past week, and that the secretary of war is now considering the advisability of transferring all but one company of soldiers from the forts about Havana to prevent mutiny.

With but one exception the contents of the dispatches received are carefully concealed.

A Pandemonium, a small party, commanded by Colonel Lora, who was an aide-de-camp on the staff of General Maceo in the rebellion against Spanish rule, is reported to be encamped in the woods near the place, preparing to attack the guard there. This detachment includes a sergeant, corporal and soldiers of the rural guards who deserted some days ago, and threw their fortunes with Lora. An attempt was made tonight to secure a statement from the government regarding the activity of these so-called bandits, but none of the officials would talk, referring all inquiries to President Palma. The guard about the palace has been doubled.

Late tonight it was learned that the famous negro agitator and orator, Juan Gualberto Gomez, was arrested. It was learned by government agents that he had been going through different parts of the country and organizing revolutionary parties.

The government advises from Santa Clara province show that there is a decided sympathy among the Americans with the revolutionists. It is feared that another outbreak will occur. It is stated by the government officials that the remainder of the island with the exception of Pinar Del Rio is tranquil and the country in a fine state of order.

General Loyaz Del Castillo, who was arrested this evening, escaped from the police tonight. He asked permission to go to prison in his own carriage. This was granted, and when he entered his carriage he ordered the coachman to whip up the horses. General Loyaz then made his escape by jumping from the door of the carriage when about a square ahead of the police.

The speaker of the lower house of congress has called a special session for tomorrow at which the situation will be discussed. It is probable that during this session the situation will be discussed and thoroughly gone over.

Prominent officials of the army have been authorized to enlist all persons who will give the government support should a critical stage arrive.

Expected at State Capital on Occasion of McKinley Monument Unveiling.

Columbus, O., Aug. 19.—The plans considered by the McKinley Memorial commission portend that the unveiling of the monument to the martyred president at the west front of the state house September 14, promises to be an event of more than city or state interest. Columbus expects 100,000 people from over the entire state, besides those within its borders, because of the national prominence of the orators and the interest the state is expected to take in such an event.

Secretary W. Y. Bassell, of the Columbus board of trade, as secretary of the McKinley Memorial commission, will endeavor to secure reduced fares on railroads for the unveiling of the McKinley memorial.

Loss of Life Estimated All the Way From 500 to 10,000, While the Property Destroyed Runs Into the Millions.

Buenos Ayres, Aug. 19.—With telegraphic communication already partly restored with Chile, the appalling nature of the disaster caused by an earthquake and fire that followed in Valparaiso is now gradually becoming known, and it is now certain that the earlier reports were not exaggerated. Nearly all of the northern portion of the city has been wiped out by the earthquake and fire that followed, and although the fires are reported practically checked it seems that this is so merely because there is nothing left to burn in the area in which the flames held sway. Since the initial disturbances that caused the disaster there have been frequent shocks, and although all of these have been of a mild nature, they are more or less alarming.

It is absolutely impossible to secure a correct list of dead at the present time.

The rumors run all the way from 500 to 10,000 and here the belief is general that the lesser of the figure is more nearly the correct one. The city is now under martial law, and all classes are being pressed into service to clear a way for trains and houses.

All of the smaller towns near Valparaiso have been badly damaged, but up to the present no details of the loss of life is available.

Latest advices received here place the property loss at $170,000,000. Most of this damage was by fire. A heavy rain began to fall at the time the conflagration started, and it was hoped that it would quench the flames but it lasted only a short time.

The whole population is sleeping in the halls, the parks or the streets. The nights are very cold and windy, and people sleeping in the open suffer greatly. The first earthquake shocks were felt at 7:52 Thursday evening. During that night eighty-two shocks were felt. The railroads are all destroyed. These towns are reported to be in ruins.

Vina Del Mar, three miles from Valparaiso, having a population of over 10,000; Quilrahu, 225 miles south, population 2,500; Santo Lismache, 15 miles northwest, population 6,500; Quileta 25 miles northwest, population 10,000.

Washington, Aug. 19.—Two messages from Minister Hicks dated Santiago De Cuba were received by Acting Secretary Adee of the state department, and one from Consul Williams in the northern part of the earthquake country.

The minister reported that the damage at Valparaiso is enormous, running into millions, and that the loss of lives will count into thousands. Accurate estimates are impossible because of broken communications. Twelve thousand people in Valparaiso are homeless. The government has taken steps to afford relief and preserve order.

At Santiago the less violent shock caused considerable damage, and persons were killed by falling walls.

Consul Williams reported that fact that the reported casualties were not overestimated.

Mr. Adee cabled that conditions are frightful at Valparaiso.

Buenos Ayres, August 19.—From the new details obtainable here, it appears that there were five shocks, the disturbances passing south along the Pacific coast and crossing the Andes. The shocks were severe, according to the registration of the seismograph instruments here and at Santa Rosa and Andes City. The property loss is enormous. Many houses were thrown down including the government house. During the night the volcano at Tupugato was heard roaring and the people fled to the churches to pray for safety. At San Juan, in the Andes, high winds accompanied the shocks. The shock around Andes City was very severe.

The shocks seriously affected the towns of Rosario, Aranas, Rioja, San Luis Tucuman.

Alliance, O., Aug. 19.—As the result of a vicious assault on Harvey Metz of this place, Martin Medley, a theological student of Mt. Union, has been bound over to common pleas court by Mayor McConnell, bail being fixed at $100. The assault took place last week, and the alleged reason for it is that Metz offered an insult to a young lady named Viola Grimes, with whom Medley has been keeping company. Metz was first knocked down with a stone, then beaten insensate. His injuries may prove fatal. The assault took place while Metz was returning from the home of the young lady, who had that day attended the Sunday school picnic in Canton.

The first mention which we have of gold is in the 11th verse of the second chapter of Genesis, or in other words four thousand and four years before Christ.

Gold was used as money by the ancient Egyptians at a very early date. Herodotus tells that the invention of the coinage of gold belongs to Lydia, about 750 B. C. Authorities conflict about the first coinage of gold. Some say it was Miletus, and some the Persians, but there are no records to show just when.

"One of the Common People" Presents a Few Homely Truths for the Morgan Engineering Co.'s Alliance Newspaper to Ponder Over.

Editor the News:—The Alliance Leader, owned by the Morgan interests, sneeringly refers to the Grant delegates from the county as not being representative citizens. This is accepted as the opinion of the sons of a father who at one time discovered, before he could speak better than broken English, that money would not obtain the support of the voters of this district even if he had the Republican nomination for congress. This lesson appears to have been lost upon his sons, one of whom, thanks to government contracts, now lives in the most palatial residence in Ohio.

Why do these new found masters of the party consider these delegates not representative citizens? Is it because they have not plundered the public nor the nation through tariff bounties or otherwise? Is it because they have not flourished from graft and emoluments from vice and its votaries? Or is it because they come from the plain common people, the hewers of wood and drawers of water, of the party? Is it because they represent the bone and sinew of national free men and in their manhood rise to the call of duty to save a free people's heritage from being the plaything of the new rich?

It is true that they are not representative of the element who would rear an aristocracy of wealth upon the ashes of American manhood. They measure men by brains and not by wealth and the contempt in which they are held by the money-gorged vultures is heartily and genuinely reciprocated. They are of the brawn that founded the Republican party and in shame they see the sacred edifice turned into a whited sepulcher, a roosting place for birds of prey. They may not be representative citizens in some eyes but by the sacred truths of the republic they will be heard and they will be heeded or righteous indignation will triumph and with patriotic zeal they will tear down the desecrated temple with a feeling of contempt only equalled by the pride they at one time possessed for their political handiwork.

Has it come to such a pass that the U. S. Steel corporation and other "paw" fed parasites are to tell the makers of the party that they are not "representative" citizens? Bah! It causes the stomach of honest Republicans to revolt. Shades of the forefathers of the party. Upon what meat hath these vultures fed? The very air reeks! Truly does the day of humiliation approach those whose heretofore proud boasts have been their party's record in the battle for human freedom. Are we to be thus shown the chains to bind us down before the juggernaut car of avarice and greed. God forbid.

"One of the Common People."

To Be Tested in the Courts by Cincinnati Liquor Interests—Positions Taken.

Columbus, Aug. 19.—Attorneys from Cincinnati were in Columbus Friday taking depositions in a case brought there which attacked the validity of the Aikin law increasing the Dow tax to $1,000 per year. The attack is being made on the grounds that the bill was never really presented to Governor Pattison and that if it was or had been the governor was not in a fit condition to give it the consideration required by the veto provision of the constitution.

Judge Smith and Henry Mack represent the liquor interests in taking the depositions, while the law is defended by Attorney Collins.

The deposition of ex-Secretary Lewis B. Houck and of Executive Clerk Lemert were taken touching the subject of the records of the governor's office as regards whether the bill was presented to the governor. The records show that it was presented, but the liquor interests are trying to show that there really was no physical presentation of the bill to the governor.
